Montgomery Co. Men Get Benefits

The Federal Board for Vocational Education is having remarkable success in retraining disabled veterans of the World War who are no longer fit for pre-war occupations. The board trains disabled men in any occupation or profession for which they are mentally and physically fitted. The trainees are placed in the best schools, colleges and industrial establishments and are trained until capable of accepting a position. If necessary the training covers a period of four years. At the completion of the course a position is secured for the man, and he is kept on the government payroll until it is certain that he will make good. While in the training men receive an allowance from $1,000 to $2,000 per year, and all transportation, tuition, books, tools and training supplies are paid for by the board.

In order that married men may take their families to the place of training, the pay for men with dependents is larger than the pay for the single men without dependents. If the men desire, they are trained at or near the place of residence. The men are not under military control, nor do they have to sign up for any certain period of time. They may cease training whenever they so desire.

Their compensation from the War Risk Insurance Bureau does not stop except during the time they are receiving pay. When the man is discontinued or is retained the compensation is resumed, if the disability still exists. The following men of this section and entitled to this training and it is expected that they will shortly take advantage of the government's most generous offer:

James W. Curtis, Mt. Sterling, Ky.
Nelson Willoughby, Jeffersonville, Kentucky.
Luke Shusher, Frenchburg, Ky.
Taylor Shroul, Frenchburg, Ky.
Dave Walsh, Rothwell, Ky.

Mrs. Catt is for the League of Nations

Woman's clubs and suffrage circles in Louisville were deeply stirred by the announcement today that Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, for years president of the Woman's Suffrage Association, and president of the International Woman's Suffrage Alliance, has written an endorsement of the League of Nations. Mrs. Catt proposes to vote for Cox and Roosevelt, though she has always been a staunch Republican. Her statement has shaken from their moorings several Republican women leaders in Louisville, who have for many years been guided solely by Mrs. Catt's policy.

Mrs. Catt's view are given in the current issue of the "Woman's Citizen," organ of the American League of Women Voters, a national non-partisan organization. In her article she answers every objection to the League of Nations, and tells why the United States should ratify it.

"To my mind," she writes, "The United States has lost a decided advantage of world leadership won by the united efforts of the United States during the war, and it falls farther into the background with each month of longer delay. If the League has failed to begin its operations robustly it is largely the fault of this country."

"The responsibility of taking effective action now is far more imperative than any call upon us during the war. What the United States now may easily do is to make a thousand years of difference in the world of evolution."

Secretary Baker Praises Senator Beckham

Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, while in Louisville with the Pro-League Special train, expressed his hope that Senator J. C. W. Beckham be re-elected to the United States Senate.

"Senator Beckham," said Secretary Baker, "as a member of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs and on the floor of the Senate Chamber was of the very greatest assistance to the administration in the conduct of the war. Throughout the war he worked unrelentingly and efficiently. We depended upon him at any time of the day or night to help, whatever way he could help, the cause of America in the great war. His work was beyond any valuation that those who conducted the war could put upon it. His work was for the whole people and I hope Kentucky will recognize it by returning him to the Senate."

A prominent Democrat who heard Secretary Baker's statement added this comment: "Everybody who was in Washington during the war knows that Secretary Baker is speaking nothing but the truth. Senator Beckham worked day and night on military matters. He was as well informed on these subjects as any legislator in Washington, but he had the rare faculty of keeping his mouth shut about what he knew."

"Secretary Baker is in a position to know exactly what Senator Beckham's services meant to the country during the war, and it is a pity that more of his constituents do not know of his valuable work."

HALLOWE'EN

When Halloween and the Sabbath occur at the same time, those who are accustomed to appearing on the streets as ghosts, clowns and in divers other disguises are at a loss to know just when to make their appearance.

Some are of the opinion the celebration will be moved up a day, to Saturday, while others think maybe Monday would be the better day. Certainly, it is felt, no attempt will be made to observe Halloween on Sunday.

Lexington Market Opens December 1

Announcement has been made that the Lexington Tobacco Market will open December 1. No definite date has yet been named for the opening of the market here, but it is expected to be about the same time as the Fayette market.

OFF TO HONOLULU

A message from Richard M. French, who has been stationed at San Francisco for some time as Postoffice inspector, states that he has been sent to Honolulu to inspect the United States Postoffices there. He was accompanied by Mrs. French and they expect to be in Honolulu several months.

The examining trial of Verne Jones, charged with the killing of Woodson Henry, which was to have been heard before Judge E. W. Senff today, was postponed until Saturday morning, Jones being held without bond.

R. Threlkeld had his examining trial on Tuesday, charged with the shooting of Arthur Denman at Shelbyville, and was held on $3,000 bond to answer to the Circuit Court.

To Fulfill Vows or Quit—Wilson

To a group of fifteen Republicans and Independents in politics who were received by him personally in the White House yesterday morning, President Wilson read an address in which he defended Article X of the League of Nations Covenant and declared that it aimed to carry out the pledge that the free governments of the world had given to the people when they entered the war.

These nations promised that the world would be safeguarded in the future from sinister designs, said the President, and he added:

"We have now to choose whether we will make good or quit."

The President made a direct reference to the political campaign toward the close of his address. No one who opposed the ratification of the Versailles treaty and the League Covenant, he said, has proposed any other adequate means of bringing about settled peace. There was no other available or possible means, he declared.

He denied the claim that Article X was itself a threat of war; on the contrary it assured the concert of all free peoples to see justice done and humanity protected and vindicated. This, he asserted, was the true Americanism.

This choice, the President went on, was the supreme choice of the present campaign. He expressed regret that this choice should be associated with party contest.

"I suggest," he said, in closing, "that the candidacy of every candidate, for whatever office, be tested by this question: 'Shall we or shall we not redeem the great moral obligations of the United States?'"

The occasion was impressive by reason of the fact that it marked the delivery of the first formal address that President Wilson has made since he became ill more than a year ago. But it was additionally impressive on account of the perceptible effect that his illness had left on the President and the emotion he showed while reading it.

Former Local Man Hurt in Accident

The following, from a Shelby paper gives an account of an accident in which Walter Cook, formerly of this city was badly injured:

Walter Cook, son of Mr. J. E. Cook, owner of the Shelby Steam Laundry, was dangerously injured Saturday evening on South LaFayette street Shelbyville, when his car collided with Furman Cline's car, driven by a Mr. Harris. The cars struck head-on and Mr. Walter Cook was thrown through the windshield of the Cline car which cracked his skull in two places and rendered serious and ugly cuts and bruises about his head. His little sister was with him and she received some slight cuts, but nothing serious. His brother, Preston Cook, was driving. Young Cook, who is a popular lad, was rushed to the Lincoln hospital, where he is undergoing treatment. His mother is at his bedside. His condition is reported to be quite serious. Both cars were badly damaged.

Combs and James Thompson, Joe Thompson, Hedges Thompson and Green Thompson, all of this county. Two sisters, Mrs. J. C. Turley and Mrs. W. R. Hopkins, and four brothers, J. W. Thompson, W. J. Decision Fatal to State Road Work

A severe blow was dealt road construction in the state of Kentucky when Judge Gus Thomas, of the Court of Appeals, decided that Hopkins county had no authority to lend the state $150,000 of its bond issue for use in construction of the Dixie Beeline in that county, according to Joe S. Boggs, state highway examiner. As a result of this decision Mr. Boggs thinks that fifty-six of the sixty-five projects designed by the last legislature as the primary system of state highways will not be constructed unless steps be taken for an enlargement of the revenues of the road department and the levying of some form of tax that is constitutional.

In a statement issued Mr. Boggs gives his view of the effect that the decision will have on road construction in the future. The statement follows:

"The recent decision of the Kentucky Court of Appeals in the case of James R. Rash vs. W. W. Crick, county judge, et al., from Hopkins county in a memorandum opinion handed down by Judge Thomas enjoining Hopkins county from loaning $150,000 of their bond issue to the Department of State Roads and Highways for use in the construction of the Dixie Beeline in that county, in my mind clearly invalidates the provisions of Section 11, Chapter 159, of the Acts of 1920."

"This section of the new road law was so drafted that any county in the commonwealth desiring to hasten the construction of a state primary road could, by paying the cost thereof, have same constructed prior to the time that the state had funds available for that purpose and receive reimbursement out of the state road fund when the project of which the road was a part was completed in its entirety. At this time Clay county has offered $200,000, Lee county $110,000, Clark county, $12,000, Hopkins county $150,000, Lawrence $125,000, Pike $200,000, Johnson $200,000 and Ohio county $40,000, totaling $1,037,000, available immediately for use in the construction of important roads in these counties."

"These offers have been accepted heretofore by the commission, but in my judgment this decision of the Court of Appeals clearly invalidates them and unless these various counties are willing for the above mentioned funds to be contributed to the state it may possibly be several years before such roads are built."

"This decision, taken in connection with the defeat of the whiskey tax, leaves the state road fund in a precarious condition as concerns future construction, for after deducting a reasonable sum for maintenance purposes and the liquidation of state aid claims, there will be less than two million dollars available—hardly sufficient to match federal aid for the next two years—and will necessarily confine state expenditures to the nine projects in Kentucky that have been heretofore approved by the Department of Agriculture; these being the Mayo Trail, Ashland to Pikeville; Midland Trail, Ashland to Wickliffe; Kentucky-Virginia Highway, Lexington by way of Whitesburg to the Virginia line; Pineville-Williamson, from Pineville, Ky., to Williamson, W. Va.; Eastern Dixie Highway from Corbin to Jellico, Tenn.; Corbin to Cumberland Gap; Jackson Highway from Louisville to Tennessee state line; Dixie Beeline, from Henderson to Tennessee state line and the Ohio River road, from Louisville to Paducah, leaving fifty-six other projects without funds available unless the coun-

1916 Series

HITS—Off Woodrow, 0; off Hughes, 3 (Ohio, Kansas and California.)

Time of Game—Eight Hours.
Umpires for Wall Street—Armour and Swift.

Umpires for Labor—McAdoo and Stone.

Now this was a hard game and you know we were up against it in the first half of the ninth inning. We had what is known as the shine ball, but a few years ago we had what was known as the raise ball. Well, of course, Woodrow being some old-fashioned, when Dupont was first man up Woodrow led with three nice raises. Dupont, batting for a drop in wages, swings three times hard and walked away.

Now Wall Street is up and he is very dangerous. But he is hit by Woodrow and walks. We know Wall Street stole second and in a close play also stole third. Now Penrose is up and things surely look blue, for Penny is a great hitter. The grandstand is filled with old gray whiskered farmers from the West, but in the meantime Federal Reserve, playing deep in center, takes a beautiful liner from Penny's bat, and you should have heard those old farmers cheer when Wall Street died at the plate on Federal Reserve's throw.

Now comes the last half of the ninth. Pitchers as a rule are not much with the stick, but you ought to have seen the people blow up when Woodrow hit the orange. He touched the bag in Ohio, in Kansas and got so near it in Minnesota that he got by with it, and was called safe in California by the official count.

Now what he must have is a new recruit on this team. The first thing is, is he a good hitter? Now think! Governor Cox in the Ohio State League, four times up and he has three clean hits. Yes, boys, we can chance him! Come on; let's win this 1920 series!

"It is, therefore, very necessary that if the people of Kentucky desire the early construction of the primary road system laid out by the last General Assembly that some steps be taken in the near future for an enlargement of their revenues of the department and the levying of some form of tax that is constitutional."

AGRONOMY DEPARTMENT OFFERS GOOD WORK

Working with one of the strongest faculties in the College of Agriculture, the student taking the course in agronomy during the short course in practical farming which begins at the University of Kentucky November 1, will have opportunity to procure information concerning crops, soils, farm engineering and plant diseases sufficient to answer his requirements for years.

Prof. P. E. Karraker will be in charge of the work in soil fertility, and will investigate the question of why soils differ in crop producing power; how poor soils can be made to produce large crops; how clover can be grown successfully on land where it has never been grown, and what are the commercial fertilizers, and how should they be used. In answering the questions a general consideration of the feeding of the plants, the fertility in the soils in Kentucky and the value to crop rotation, crop residues and farm manures, and the use of lime and the commercial fertilizer, will be given.

The instructor will explain the texture of soils and kinds of soils based on texture in teaching the subject of soil physics and management. He will also take up the structure of soils and how good structure is maintained; water in soils, its importance and means of regulating it; soil tillage and its effects, soil washing and importance of control, and soil aeration and soil temperature.

The problem of how to obtain a good yield with high quality of the most profitable crops at the lowest cost is given a special consideration in the field crop production courses. The student is taught that favorable environment is necessary and he is taught how to recognize environment. The crops are studied in reference to their soil and plant food requirements, the manner and time of planting, cultural methods, rotation, efficient methods of harvesting, preparing for the market and marketing.

A course in crops, the first term is devoted to a study of tobacco and the important grain crops and the course in the second term concerns grasses and other forage crops.

Dr. W. D. Valleau will give a course in study of diseases that attack fields, orchards and gardening crops, and methods by which they may be controlled. Dr. Valleau, as plant pathologist, in the College of Agriculture, has had extensive study over the state of "wild fire" and "rust" in tobacco.

A study of the stationary gas engine and gas tractor which includes construction, operation, repairs and engine trouble will be directed by J. B. Kelley. Farmers are especially interested at this time in the installation of new machinery on the farm.

The student will be made familiar with the benefits and injuries of the microbe and its methods in the study of hygiene and sanitation, which will be taught by Dr. D. J. Healy during the second term.

The department of agronomy has many more interesting phases to offer the short course student than have been mentioned in this sketch of the work, but students in the short course will get all the advantages of the work.

An important development of the campaign that strengthens the Democratic hope and gives a moral backing worth much is the publication by The Christian World of figures showing the attitude of the clergy toward the League. Fifteen thousand clergymen signed a petition urging prompt ratification of the treaty and the League without nullifying reservations. Eight hundred and sixteen clergymen declined to sign. The signers outnumbered the non-signers more than eighteen to one. Every shade of religious belief was represented on this petition, Protestant, Catholic, Hebrew and other faiths. The Northern Baptist Convention urged ratification in the name of 1,500,000 Northern Baptists. Over 4,000 Methodist clergymen signed, and other churches were as well represented.

The character of the support that Governor Cox is winning is indicated by the above and by the support of Dr. Charles W. Elliott, John Burroughs and a host of other progressives and independents.

DAIRY INTERESTS TO BE FEATURED IN SHORT COURSE

With the growth of interest in Kentucky in the dairy farming there has grown a demand for the most expert information on farm dairying and dairy products, establishment of creameries and dispensaries and the like. In the short course in agriculture to be offered by the College of Agriculture, November 1 to February 26 the subjects relative to dairying will be given wide consideration.

Prof. J. J. Hoopes will direct the work of the students in management of the dairy herd, the study of the breeds of cattle, the feeding of the animals, the construction of the dairy barns and silos, the production of clean milk and other problems connected with the operation of a dairy.

J. O. Barkman will teach in the dairy manufacturers' course, the Babcock butter fat test, the construction and operation of cream separators and the churning of farm butter. The student will also be given laboratory work in the manufacture of ice cream, cheese and butter.

Through the dairy department cow testing associations are being organized in the state and many short course students will profit in the selection of his herd by attending the work offered in the department. The course is open to all men and women of the Commonwealth and no entrance examinations are required.

HOUSING FARM MACHINERY IS A GOOD INVESTMENT

The following suggestions are applicable to every farmer who has machinery, as a means of saving his machinery and at the same time saving money.

1. Store all implements as soon as the season's work is done.
2. When storing, all parts should be thoroughly cleaned, and well oiled so as to prevent rust.
3. Look out for worn or broken parts on implements, secure all repairs during the winter, so that machines will be ready for use the next season.
4. Get rid of worn-out machines. That is, machines that will not go through another season, as labor is too high and crops are too valuable to risk a wornout implement.
5. In some cases co-operative use of machines may help solve the problem of harvesting crops in some communities.
6. In setting up new machines always follow the printed instructions sent out by the manufacturers.
7. Never operate any machine until all the working parts have been thoroughly lubricated.
8. Inspect your machinery often for loose parts and tighten them immediately.

If a farmer has $1,500 worth of machinery and it wears out in 15 years when properly housed, the depreciation will amount to about $100 per year, but if he leaves it out in the fence corners it lasts only about 7-1-2 years, and the depreciation will be about $106. The difference of $6 will pay the farmer $10 per cent interest on a $1,200 implement shed or 20 per cent on a $500 one.

The average life of a farm implement is about 15 years when housed and 7-1-2 years when left in the open, the annual loss to the farmers of the state by not housing their machinery will run into the millions of dollars.

PRESIDENT WILSON SAYS

"Those who do not care to tell you the truth about the League of Nations tell you that Article X of the Covenant of the League would make it possible for other nations to lead us into war, whether we will it by our own independent judgment or not. This is absolutely false. There is nothing in the Covenant which in the least interferes with or impairs the right of Congress to declare war or not declare war, according to its own independent judgment, as our Constitution provides."

"Those who drew the Covenant of the League were careful that it should contain nothing which interfered with or impaired the constitutional arrangements of any of the great nations which are to constitute its members. They would have been amazed and indignant at the things that are now being ignorantly said about this great and sincere document."—Woodrow Wilson.

THE TEACHER'S OPPORTUNITY

The strength of the United States depends upon the practical patriotism and sound economic thought of her future citizens. These characteristics must be developed in the daily life of the school.

Economists agree that the universal adoption of habits of intelligent saving will strengthen our nation tremendously. When every wage earner has a reserve fund of money the country will be sound economically, socially and politically.

The teacher who encourages pupils to earn money and to invest in Thrift Stamps and War Savings Stamps is doing much for their economic strength and practical patriotism.

Each child who buys stamps feels a partnership in the government. He learns the wisdom of investing his money in securities that are absolutely safe; he becomes familiar in a practical way with compound interest, and as he sticks stamp after stamp upon the card he has a visual demonstration of how savings grow.

Faith without work is dead. Thrift without safe investment, such as Government Savings Certificates, is robbed of its benefits. Its virtue lies not only in its principles, but in the actual practice of investment.

Each year thousands of boys and girls in the United States are deprived of a college education because they lack money.

You can remedy this situation among your pupils by starting them on the road to saving early in life and encouraging them to safeguard those savings in Government securities.

You are rendering a real service to your country by promoting the sale of these stamps. The burden of war debt is still heavy and the government must still borrow money.

Add to your influence as a school teacher. Promote sound economic thought, practical patriotism and prosperity by encouraging your pupils in the regular purchase of these Thrift Stamps and War Savings Stamps.

Civic pride is good stuff, but if all the small cities are telling the truth about their population there are about 400,000,000 people in this country.

Delayed dinners have doubtless caused more domestic unhappiness than all the beautiful blonde stenographers on earth.

It is easy to be popular. Just keep your troubles to yourself and be a good listener when the other fellow starts telling his.

When a sixteen-year-old girl thinks of fate she doesn't realize that there is an adverse variety.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET

FOR PRESIDENT JAMES M. COX
FOR VICE PRESIDENT FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT
FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR J. C. W. BECKHAM
FOR CONGRESSMAN WM. J. FIELDS
FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE H. R. PREWITT

A TRICK TO DEFEAT SENATOR BECKHAM

There is an unsigned statement being sent out to the school teachers of the state saying Senator Beckham is opposing increased pay for them. This statement is a malicious falsehood, circulated in order that teachers may resent any such stand by voting for Ernst, Republican candidate for Senator. The reverse of this statement is true of Senator Beckham. The National Democratic platform, which Senator Beckham most heartily indorses, settles this question. The Democrats stand for better paid teachers and for facilities that will enable this profession to become better qualified and for a remuneration that would enable them to give all time to school duties and lay aside a handsome sum for coming days. As an additional refutation, we could add, all laws looking to the increase of the teachers' pay that are in the Kentucky statutes were enacted by a Kentucky Democratic Legislature, and signed by Senator Beckham while he was Governor of Kentucky. The trick being passed around contains falsehoods, and teachers will resent the attempted trick on them.

FINAL APPEAL

President Wilson's final appeal for the adoption of the League and an enduring peace was a solemn scene. Every thought showed mental labor and the utterance from the honest heart of a man who had given his life for the cause of his people. For this effort our women, in the tenderness of heart, will praise and almost worship, for he would save his people from the recurrence of war. He again explained the object of the League and with the efforts of his very being, asks you and me to help at this, the most crucial period. Will you do it? This our last plea, can't people be as one man in an effort to be at peace with the world? Vote for Governor James M. Cox and the League of Nations, and the world will never be brighter.

This is a great country, paramount to any on earth, and the man who is to be our chief executive should be not only a man with decided convictions, a well tried leader with a determined will power, who could bring things worth while to pass, a pure bred Anglo Saxon, leading the white race peoples into a limitless peace period under the League of Nations, that wars, financial disturbances, strikes and riots will be known only on the historian's pages. To our mind the Democrats have the platform and Governor James M. Cox is the man to suggest, to plan, to lead; he has the courage, the mind, the training, the decision. He is of our kind, and a man all nations would delight to honor. This great country will not make a mistake by electing him as president of the United States.

DON'T BE DECEIVED

There are some persons going the rounds (they are Republicans), saying: "My wife is not going to vote, neither are the negro women of our neighborhood." Women, you who are on guard, pass the word around, "Be not deceived for every mother's daughter of them will vote, and this deceptive trick is only a make-believe in order that your ardor may be cooled, and which they hope to lead to indifference. You will see the point. Be at the polls on the morning of Tuesday, November 2nd, and cast your votes for the Democratic nominee, the man who stands for the RIGHTS of ALL COMMON PEOPLES.

BE ON GUARD

Democrats are aware of what Republicans will resort to in order to gain power. We call attention to the Republican plays, who stole the presidency from Samuel J. Tilden, Democrat, and how by a falsehood, circulated on the eve of the election in Kentucky that elected Augustus E. Willson governor of Kentucky, together with an entire Republican ticket. These elections are not so far back that the youngest Democrat voter of today does not remember results. Kentucky suffers today from acts of that administration. Republicans show themselves incapacitated for conducting national and state affairs. We cannot trust them. Vote for COX.

The United States is the most prosperous country in the world; the citizens of the country have more money than at any time in the history of their lives or of the country, and there is and has been a Democratic administration at Washington for the past seven and one-half years, yet, the Republican spellbinders and editors have the effrontery to squeal "put the Democrats out and put Republicans in, that we may have good times." Do they consider that most of the voters are imbeciles? It would seem so!

$10.00 PER HEAD

Reports are out that the G. O. P. has passed into the hands of their election day workers a sufficient sum to enable them to give each flouter $10.00 to vote for Harding. This comes from the $15,000,000 Corruption Fund. Can the Presidency be purchased?

It behooves every correct moral man and woman to vote and thereby save the United States from the disgrace of a purchased executive.

Will the white people of the state indorse with their votes at the polls next Tuesday the statement of a fellow by the name of Heyburn of Louisville, that Republicans are "trained consecutive thinkers," and the Democrats are not? This is practically saying that negro men and women are capable of trained consecutive thinking and that white men and white women are not. Think, What does this mean to YOU?

Such egotistical phenomenon as the Republicans perpetrate in their effort to push their candidate to the front with the "men of the country" is unpardonable and should be squelched in the bud by the vote of Democracy. Haven't you been prosperous during the Democratic Administration? Nuf Sed!

"Keep the White House White," is the Democratic slogan.

Bolt to Cox Forms A General Landslide

The swing of the Republicans in Louisville and the State of Kentucky who cannot abide by the wiggle and wobble of Senator Harding on such a vital, moral question as the League of Nations, has assumed the proportions of a landslide. Each day dozens of independent thinking, forward looking citizens announce that they cannot support the Republican ticket any longer.

The majority of them are swayed in this action by the belief that the only hope of the League of Nations is through the Democratic party.

Here are a few prominent Republicans who have recently announced their intention of voting for Cox:

Theodore B. Blakey, Beattyville, former assistant attorney general under a Republican governor, Augustus Willson, and brother of Clayton B. Blakey, former Republican city attorney of Louisville.

Rev. George H. Given, who is visiting Elizabethtown and formerly a citizen of Louisville.

Samuel McDowell Anderson, former Republican alderman of Louisville.

George R. Washburne, life-long Republican of Louisville.

Henry B. Driver, a Republican organization worker.

Charles G. Tachau, winner of Congressional citation in the war and Independent Republican.

Miss Katherine E. Gladfelter, whose father is business manager of the Republican Louisville Herald.

Misses Catherine and Lydia Burke daughters of the president of the Louisville Board of Trade, and treasurer of Pease Gaubert Company, who has been a life-long Republican.

Rev. M. P. Hunt, pastor of the Broadway Methodist church, who has always aided the Republicans in their campaign in Louisville.

Mrs. George Evans Dadis, granddaughter of General William Henry Harrison, famous as "Tippecanoe," and president of the United States, and niece of Benjamin Harrison, Republican president from 1892 to 1896.

Prof. I. William Davenport, registrar of the University of Louisville, life-long Republican.

Mrs. Alonzo Redmond, Marine Hospital, a Republican.

Mrs. J. D. Stewart, daughter of the late Charles T. Ballard, a life-long Republican.

Mrs. Charles B. Semple, president of the Louisville woman's club, and an Independent.

Mrs. R. P. Halleck, president of the Consumers' League of Kentucky, and an Independent.

Rev. R. I. McCready, dean of Christ Church Cathedral, an Independent.

Henry I. Stone, former Republican city attorney of Louisville.

Very Rev. Dr. Charles Ewell Craik, dean Emeritus Christ Church Cathedral.

Alex G. Barrett, former chairman of a Republican Board of Public Works.

G. A. Breaux, Jr., Secretary of Ballard & Ballard, a Republican.

Baylor Hickman, president of the Ewald Iron Company, Republican.

Kenneth McGuire, president of the Harlan Coal Company, Republican.
W. A. McLann, president of the Wood-Mosaic Company, a Republican.

Frank Cassell, sales director of Belknap Hardware Manufacturing Company.

Newton G. Crawford, treasurer and Louisville manager of the New Phoenix Storage Company, an Independent.

Mrs. Charles T. Ray, daughter of former Republican mayor of Louisville, James F. Grinstead.

Mrs. Bailey Grinstead, daughter-in-law of former Republican mayor of Louisville, James F. Grinstead.

I. W. Bernheim, life-long Republican and always a heavy contributor to the Republican cause.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE COMMENTS

Just a week from tonight, Thursday, the 4th, is the date set for our "Utellum" Dinner. A program of much interest and on which the Events and Publicity Committee has worked quite a bit—speeches, monologues and songs—the biggest thing ever pulled off in Mt. Sterling.

—C-of-C—

The Chamber of Commerce has enrolled a man about 30 years of age, married, sober, industrious, and brother-in-law of S. Thurston Ballard, Republican lieutenant governor of Kentucky.

James G. Kirwin, prominent Louisville business man, who has always voted Republican.

Burton Vance, Roosevelt follower, and candidate for United States Senator on Progressive ticket in 1914.

Thomas Bohannon, president of the Bohannon Realty Company, who voted the straight Republican ticket in 1916.

well recommended who wishes a position. What have you to offer?

They also know of a position for a young lady, between the age of 25 and 35, answering phone and collecting; salary $30 a month. If interested please address the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; only application by mail will be considered.

—C-of-C—

A large attendance is already assured at the meeting on the night of the 4th. You had better see Treasurer Keller and get your ticket at once, that you may be assigned a good seat where you can see and hear all that goes on. Don't wait until the last minute and then complain that you did not get a good seat.

—C-of-C—

What do you members with children running loose on the streets afternoons, after school and Saturdays, think of a municipal playground—horizontal bars, slides, swings, etc. They have done wonders in the cities and if sufficient interest is displayed the proper committee of the Chamber of Commerce would be glad to take it up.

—C-of-C—

Come on with that slogan. The winner will be given a year's subscription to the Lexington Leader and the Mt. Sterling Advocate. What's yours?

New pack oats and cereal at Vandersell's.

DEMOCRATS GAIN

At the close of the special registration in the Clerk's office, there had been registered 194 voters, divided as follows:

Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock from the small tables and from the large table in the dining room, the guests being shown their places by dainty cards suggestive of Halloween. Without an Equal Says Inspector

Tanlac Built Him Up So Wonderfully His Friends Are Now Taking It

"Although I have only taken four bottles of Tanlac, it has restored me to perfect health, and I have gained ten pounds in weight," said Floyd E. Whitman, 700 Sawyer street, of Akron, Ohio, inspector of the steam heating system for the Goodrich Tire and Rubber Co.

"I had been feeling all run-down for a year or more and my whole system seemed to be getting out of order, as the longer I went the worse I got," he continued. "My appetite was so poor I hadn't eaten a bite for breakfast in a year, and although my wife would fix a small lunch for me to carry with me to work, I always brought all, or most of it back home in the afternoon. Even when I did manage to eat a little something it caused me to bloat up with gas until I could hardly breathe and I would be in misery for hours afterwards. I could get but little sleep and always got up feeling as tired and worn out as when I went to bed. I just had to drag myself around at my work and it was only by using great will power that I managed to stay on the job at all. Finally, I got so bad off that often while at work I would get weak and nervous all of a sudden, become staggering and just have to stop and rest a while before I could go on again. In fact, I was in such a bad fix I was just about ready to give up and go to bed, when Tanlac came to my rescue.

"The boys at the plant saw the condition I was in, and as several of them had taken Tanlac with remarkable results, they advised me to try it. Well, Sir, I commenced getting better right away, and now my improvement has been so great that all the boys in my department at the Goodrich plant, who felt like they needed a little building up have taken Tanlac, and it has helped them so much, too, that about all we talk about outside of our work, is Tanlac. Why, I feel at least twenty years younger, and am in such good shape it is hard for me to realize I ever had anything wrong with me. I have regained my strength, so that my work is actually a pleasure, and I have such a good appetite my wife jokingly says I am about to eat us out of house and home. I think Tanlac is the grandest medicine in the world, and I am always recommending it to others."

Tanlac is sold in Mt. Sterling by Lund & Priesl.

CONTROL OF GARDEN INSECTS

Since insects multiply very rapidly in their active season, any measures that can be used during the fall, winter and spring to reduce their number should be used. In gardens where insects annually do millions of dollars' worth of damage, it is a known fact that clean culture, deep fall plowing when practical and allowing poultry and hogs to run in the garden after the crops have been removed, will to a large extent, serve as a means of control for some of the insects that do most damage in the summer to the growing vegetables. Many of these insects hibernate, or pass the winter, in the soil or under trash and rubbish and when poultry and hogs are allowed to run in the garden they will destroy large numbers. When trash and rubbish are cleaned up and burned many will be destroyed. Some of the more common ones that do the most damage are, grasshoppers, cutworms, white grubs, bugs that suck juices from plants, roots and bulb maggots, cucumber beetles, etc.

Grasshoppers, though for the most part generally found in the fields, sometimes do considerable damage to garden crops. They lay their eggs in the fall in rather compact soil, about an inch below the surface, or in close cropped pasture land and along fence rows. Where such land can be plowed to the depth of 8 or 9 inches the young cannot reach the surface when they hatch in the spring; or if it is impracticable to plow, disk or harrow two or three inches deep and this will destroy many of the egg masses.

Cutworms, as a general rule, hibernate in the worm stage. These worms find hiding places under various kinds of trash and rubbish, hence, as soon as the crops are harvested in the fall all vines, trash and rubbish should be piled and burned. If the ground is plowed in the fall and spring, scatter a poisoned bait in little piles over the surface of the plowed ground and the cutworms should for the most part be destroyed. The bait is made of one pound of Paris Green mixed with 50 pounds of bran, to which two quarts of molasses and enough water has been added to moisten well.

White Grubs are the young of the May Beetles. They can be greatly reduced in numbers by allowing hogs to run in the garden in the fall. These white grubs may do considerable damage if they are not attended to at the proper time.

Tarnished Plant Bug and some closely related species, hibernate as adults in grasses and various kinds of vines. Another reason for cleaning up all trash and rubbish and burning it. In this practice of control it means not only the crops that have been raised in the garden, but removing the weeds around the fences, etc.

Squash Bug and Cucumber Beetle will pass the winter as adults. The damage they do is known to everyone, and it is exceedingly difficult to destroy them in the spring and summer, after they have an opportunity to work on the young squash and cucumber vines. It is much better to pile up a few piles of trash and leave them until rather late in the winter as many of these bugs and beetles will hibernate in such a trap. These piles of trash can then be burned and large numbers of these insects destroyed.

The Hurlquin Cabbage Bug will pass the winter as an adult under boards, stones, vines, etc. If traps in the way of piles of trash and rubbish are used to control cucumber beetles, many of the cabbage bugs will be destroyed at the same time. It should be remembered that these insects do not seek cover until late in the fall.

The Cabbage Maggot may often prove to be a serious pest and is difficult to control. As soon as the cabbage is harvested in the fall all roots and old stems should be removed and destroyed as they furnish food for the maggots to complete their growth and get ready for hibernation.

The Onion Maggots are partially controlled by the same method as for the cabbage maggot.

It should be seen by these few simple directions that most of the garden insects can be partially controlled by methods of sanitation. It is much better to destroy the insects during the dormant season if this can be done than to fight them after they attack the growing crops.

THE PRESIDENT SPEAKS

"You have been grossly misled with regard to the treaty, and particularly with regard to the proposed character of the League of Nations, by those who have assumed the serious responsibility of opposing it. They have gone so far that those who have spent their lives, as I have spent my life, in familiarizing themselves with the history and traditions and policies of the nation, must stand amazed at the gross ignorance and impudent audacity which have led them to attempt to invent an 'Americanism' of their own, which has no foundation whatever in any of the authentic traditions of the government.

"They (the creators of this government), thought of America as the light of the world, as created to lead the world in the assertion of the rights of peoples and the rights of free nations; as destined to set the responsible example to all the world of what free government is and can do for the maintenance of the right standards, both national and international."—Woodrow Wilson.

HARDING AND COX

He wiggles in and he wobbles out,
'Tis hard to learn what he's about,
But his potent fact we know quite well,
That November 2nd will sound his death knell.
Folks have no time for a spineless man,
And they'll sit Harding down as hard as they can;

Now the women all admire a firm,
strong man,
And will do everything for him that they can;
Uncle Sam has said they may have their say
And they'll all be at the polls on Election Day;
And you can safely wager your best silk sock
That the best of them will all vote for Cox.

CONSIDER THE TWO PLATFORMS AND THEN VOTE

It is easy for one accustomed to good analysis or good judgment to give the true meaning on the two sections of the contending platforms. We submit one construction:

Article X—The members of the League undertake to respect and preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all members of the League. In case of any such aggression or in case of any threat or danger of such aggression the Council shall ADVISE upon the means by which this obligation shall be fulfilled.

The deadly parallel is invoked above. Article X of the Covenant of the League of Nations says, when war impends, the Council shall ADVISE upon the MEANS by which it may be prevented.

What does the Republican platform say on the subject of preventing war? Does it say the nations associated together shall ADVISE

Garments that go to them on Tuesday are returned with style and cleaning that makes them as good as new, and garments that reach them on Thursdays are returned on Saturdays ready for Sunday's wear. We ask our Mt. Sterling customers to look over their wears and if they need cleaning or dyeing to send them to us at once. Of course, the dyeing process requires more time than dry cleaning. IT PAYS

what shall be done?

It does not.

What does it say?

It says: The Nations... may exercise their... POWER for the prevention of war.

What does POWER mean?

POWER means the American Army, the American Navy, American boys, if you please, called upon to prevent war.

Republican Platform—The Republican party stands for agreement among the nations to preserve the peace of the world. We believe that such an international association must be based on international justice and must provide methods which shall maintain the rule of public right by the development of law and the decision of imperial courts; and which shall secure instant and general international conference whenever peace shall be threatened by political action, so that the nations pledged to do and insist on what is just and fair may exercise their influence and POWER for the prevention of war.

The worst sample of Republican tactics so far is the recent attack by Republican leaders in the East on the League of Nations because it took cognizance of "traffic in women and children and traffic in opium and other dangerous drugs."

It would seem that the most evil imagination could not distort into legitimizing such evils the action of the League of Nations, in order to obtain jurisdiction of such evils, expressly taking them out of the class of agreements which would be interpreted as domestic matters and classifying them as international matters over which the League would have jurisdiction. It develops that this clause in the League Covenant was successfully urged upon the peace conference by those social organizations which are fighting the white slave traffic and the drug evil.

Yet, it must be admitted that this misinterpretation of the League, while more outrageous, is just about as logical as many others the Republicans have put out.

More people talk themselves out of favor than in.

HOW TO MAKE $25,000

The munificent sum of $25,000 awaits Ed Morrow, Teddy Roosevelt, Chas. F. Ogden, or any other of the falsifying Republican orators who can make good their assertion that the League of Nations deprives the United States of any of its sovereignty. This sum has been offered for such proof by the organization of pro-league Independents and Republicans, of which Prof. Irving Fisher is president. Will Hays and George White, the National Committeemen, will be permitted to select the jury of twelve, and if any of our glib Timbuctoo orators can convince them they are telling the truth, they will be given the $25,000.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who used to help his wife wash the dishes?

It takes strength to admit a weakness.

STRENGTH RESERVATIONS

"We will accept," says Governor Cox, "any reservation that helps to clarify; any reservation that helps to reassure; any reservation that helps to strengthen. We will accept any reservation that helps to give our associated powers a full understanding in good faith of the limitations of our own constitution, beyond which we cannot go. After the League of Nations has been thus clarified and strengthened then we propose having it ratified by the Upper House of Congress of the United States, and then peace will be guaranteed to the world. We will no longer be wasting our resources."

BURLEY MEN FILE ARTICLES FOR THEIR INCORPORATION

Articles of incorporation for the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association were filed in the office of the Fayette county clerk Thursday, with twenty-six of the most prominent tobacco growers of the state as incorporators.

The organization is the outgrowth of the efforts of former state senator John W. Newman, of Versailles, and T. B. Hill, of this county, who were the moving spirit in a campaign to enlist every burley grower in five states in this organization. The new corporation is designed to promote, foster, encourage and advance in every manner the growing, cultivation and production of Burley Tobacco.

The new body, besides working for legislation to protect the grower from unscrupulous buyers and manufacturers, will establish a bureau by which information as to the state of manufacturers' stocks will be disseminated among the growers, in order that the latter may be able to govern their planting and crops accordingly. This will prevent the grower from raising tobacco which will not sell for as much as the cost of production, and will enable him to know what grade and kind of tobacco the market can stand.

Steps will also be taken to protect the public from fraud in the matter of labeling tobacco products as Burley which are really an inferior grade of the weed. It is one of the projects of the association that bureaus may be maintained in foreign countries to get rid of the surplus of American crops and the inferior trade of tobacco which now holds the market price down.

Incorporators are: E. M. Mansfield, Carrollton; C. B. Sollivan, Versailles; Dave Prewitt, Winchester; Trumbo Sneegar, Carrollton; William Highland, Mt. Sterling; A. Grovinger, Carrollton; H. E. Rount, Brooksville; J. H. Sausley, Flemingsburg; F. P. Drake, Lexington; Harry Myers, Carlisle; Joe C. Van Meter, Lexington; E. D. Smith, Georgetown; James Tolly, Stamping Ground; A. F. Shouse, Lexington; T. C. Collins, Carlisle; J. E. Ashby, Presonsville; C. M. Dean, Carrollton; W. H. Hays, Bloomfield; F. V. Nunnally, Georgetown; O. C. Chapman,

New Richmond, O.; V. S. Mecal, Dry Ridge; Martin Maden, Sparta; J. W. Newman, Versailles; L. O. Harris, Worthville; P. B. Gaines, Carrollton, and John C. Boffd, of Worthville.

THE TIDE HAS TURNED STEADILY TOWARD COX

Wilson Says League Is Applied
Americanism—Churchmen
For Covenant.

New York—From every section of the country and from the leaders and the rank and file of the people there comes every day indications that the tide has turned, and now sets steadily toward Democratic success in November. The signs are such as cannot be ignored.

In sentences which are not only easily understood, but which cannot be misunderstood by any reasonable person, President Wilson, in an address to the American people, says that the League of Nations is but a continuance and development of the old American traditions and principles of government, and their application to the world. He says, too, that Article X of the Covenant does not make it possible for other nations to bring us into war, and nothing in it in the least interferes with or impairs the sole right of Congress to declare war.

President Wilson's participation in the fight is timely. The great object of the Democratic leaders for weeks has been to make every American familiar with the Covenant of the League; the Republican course has been absolutely the reverse. They even went so far as to omit the Covenant from the Republican Text Book. The Democrats are putting the Covenant of the League either in the hands of or easily accessible to every voter, making thus a direct appeal to the individual intelligence and individual conscience of every voter.

VOTERS, WHAT THINK YE!

Here is a woman of sound mind, who is actuated by her convictions. Read seriously and decide for yourself.

Mrs. George Evans Davis, of 1200 Cherokee road, granddaughter of one president and niece of a Republican president, is for Cox and the League of Nations. "The G. O. P. is dead," she says.

Mrs. Davis is the granddaughter of General William Henry Harrison, famous as "Tippecanoe," and president of the United States.

She is the niece of Benjamin Harrison, who was president of these United States from 1892 to 1896.

Mrs. Davis was Miss Jean Harrison, of Indianapolis.

She said to the Evening Post:

"In following Governor James M. Cox and Franklin D. Roosevelt, the standard-bearers of the Democratic party, I feel I am deserting old family traditions only in party name, for the principles of progress lies in Governor Cox's head to humanity's call. In it we hear the command that has ever been America's watchword 'Forward march,' while in Senator Harding's fear to answer humanity's call—with hands up, we hear a cry, a word unknown to true America—'Kamerad.'"

"The G. O. P. today is dead, but in its death is born into the heart of America the League of Nations, for which all Christianity has prayed for nineteen hundred and twenty years. Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done."

"Lo—
Fear not that ye have died for naught
The torch ye threw to us we caught.
Ten million hands will hold it high
And Freedom's light shall never die
We've learned the lesson that we taught."
